Weed's

It has been our privilege for over a century and a quarter to serve four generations — a privilege valued most highly. During this period Weed & Company have always been under the guidance of the Weed family and the fourth generation now supervise the operations of this establishment.

Weed & Company is not a mail order house, but we do dedicate ourselves to serving our friends wherever they may be located and to the encouragement of new friendships regardless of distance to enlarge our ever expanding circle of millions of friends from coast to coast and border to border.
